

First Report of the General Synod Nominating Committee
Class of 2029 At Large Nominees to the United Church of Christ Board
Thirty-Fourth General Synod

The General Synod Nominating Committee presents the slate of nominees for the delegates' consideration. This is a non-compliant slate as we did not meet the guidelines for members under the age of 30 or the lay/clergy ratio. The lay percentage requirement is 66 percent. We were able to meet the criteria at 61.1%. The slate meets the requirement for all other bylaw criteria related to the composition of the board.

The General Synod Nominating Committee always works diligently to meet these criteria. The pool of candidates applying for elected positions continues to decline with each biennium. This time we had zero applicants in the under 30 category. The number of lay candidates continues to decline even as clergy candidates increase. This year we did not have enough lay applications to meet the criteria.

We also had no lay candidates for the Assistant Moderator/Moderator positions which necessitated re-opening that nomination process. The previous biennium we had one lay candidate for these positions. We have taken measures to increase the visibility of calling for nominations but we need the assistance of the whole church to identify candidates who are willing to apply for any elected position at General Synod.

One other consideration is geographic diversity. Those numbers by region for the current board and current nominees are as follows:

Great Lakes 6
Mid Atlantic 7
New England 5
Southern 2
West Central 6
Western 9

As chair of the General Synod Nominating Committee, I would be happy to talk with anyone with questions, shared experience, or ideas about the nomination process.

First Report of the General Synod Nominating Committee

Class of 2029 At Large Nominees to the United Church of Christ Board

Judith Booker is a proud member of Plymouth United Church of Christ, Detroit, MI, and currently serves as the Board President of the Michigan Conference United Church of Christ. As a member of the Conference's Faith Formation Mission Area Team and Prophetic Integrity Mission Area Team, Judith is honored to serve a wider community regarding church growth and social justice issues. She serves the United Church of Christ as a member of the Committee on Ministry, Detroit Metropolitan Association. During the Michigan Conference's recent pursuit for a Transitional Conference Minister, Judith led the process as the Chair of the Search Committee. In addition to her current leadership roles, she was the Moderator of the Detroit Metropolitan Association as well as the Michigan Conference UCC. She continues to champion the Michigan community as a Board member of the Emergency Food and Shelter Program through the United Way for twenty years.

Motivated by a desire to give more to her local church, Judith made the key decision to join the Deacon Board and to later become its President. The fulfillment that she received from that ministry led her toward the Revelation Dance Ministry, where she received the deepest sense of joy and peace. In this creative space, God made room for her additional gifts and talents. Her work as an interior designer for homes, department stores, office buildings, and Detroit Public School spaces, prepared her to be a contributing designer for many of her group's liturgical dance garments.

Cean James is the Senior Pastor of Salt & Light, an interdenominational, intergenerational congregation worshipping and working in Southwest Philadelphia and Mt. Airy. In 2005, Pastor James planted Grace Christian Fellowship (GCF) as a nondenominational church to serve the poorest, sickest, and least educated section of Philadelphia: Southwest Philadelphia. GCF united with the United Church of Christ in 2012 and also planted a satellite congregation in Mt. Airy, that same year.

In 2020, GCF merged with New Spirit Community Church to form Salt & Light. Even though the merger was finalized during the pandemic, Salt & Light has experienced exponential growth and is now a 1000+ -member congregation. Salt & Light is as a congregation of passionate worship, empowered leadership, warm hospitality, intergenerational ministries, and generous missionary work in the community and beyond.

Rev. James completed his undergraduate studies at Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University with a BS in biology and received his Masters of Divinity from the Lutheran Theological Seminary of Philadelphia. Pastor James has also done doctoral work at Lancaster Theological Seminary.

Pastor James also serves the wider church as the Associate Conference Minister of Congregational Development for the Pennsylvania Southeast Conference, UCC. Pastor James is the Director of the CityLights Network, a capacity-building nonprofit in Southwest Philadelphia. Pastor James is also a board member of United Lutheran Seminary, The Common Place, and Chestnut Hill Youth Sports Association.
